Component Mission:

The National Counterterrorism Center (NCTC) leads our nation's effort to combat terrorism at home and abroad by analyzing the threat, sharing that information with our partners, and integrating all instruments of national power to ensure unity of effort. The Center serves as the primary organization in the United States Government (USG) for analyzing and integrating all intelligence possessed or acquired by the USG pertaining to terrorism and counterterrorism, and its Director serves as the Counterterrorism Mission Manager. NCTC also serves as the central and shared knowledge bank on known and suspected terrorists and international terrorist groups, as well as their goals, strategies, capabilities, and networks of contacts and support. In addition, NCTC conducts strategic operational planning for counterterrorism activities, coordinating and integrating the efforts of departments and agencies across the Federal Government.

Major Duties and Responsibilities:

Develop training plans related to contingency operations and crisis management; develop and support the delivery of operational exercises, informational briefings, operational programs, and training events that support operational and emergency plans.

Prepare and take part in the presentation of senior-level briefings and reports on plans, exercises, and operational and emergency plans that respond to the needs of select audiences.

Coordinate support of special security events.

Prepare and present briefings to interagency groups and senior leadership; attend and facilitate meetings; train IC partners assigned to support concept of operations for security special event functions; contribute to after-action reports and lessons learned and incorporate best practices.

Assume a key role on teams that will forward deploy to international and domestic special security events and provide reach back to networks of resources.

Provide input to internal products and response to external agency products and taskings related to domestic and international special events to provide increased value to customers.

Manage several long-term projects simultaneously and develop operational plans for special events.

Cooperate and collaborate with IC and United States (US) Government agencies, their designated representatives, and other ODNI elements; maintain and manage positive relationships with IC partners, law enforcement community, NCTC leadership, and other customers in planning and managing special security events.

Contribute to the development of policies, processes, and procedures to resolve internal and external challenges that result in positive and productive relationships with partners.

Support the planning and coordination of domestic special events.

Mandatory Requirements:

Ability to develop preliminary plans involving the coordination and effective cooperation of other US Government agencies, ODNI, IC, and international partners, as well as the abilities to develop contingency plans in the event of unplanned or unanticipated events.

Thorough knowledge of planning processes, consensus building, and the application and integration of IC capabilities in protecting the US and its interests abroad; experience in planning/supporting special security events.

Thorough knowledge of the mission, charter, roles, and responsibilities of ODNI, IC, and the US Government agencies, as well as how these organizations can effectively cooperate in implementing international security plans and programs.

Interpersonal, organizational, and problem-solving skills, including a demonstrated ability to work effectively both independently and in a team or collaborative environment.

Ability to communicate complex information clearly, concisely, and in a manner that meets the needs of diverse audiences

Ability to travel to both domestic and foreign locations
