Inspector General of the Intelligence Community Recognizes National Compliance Officer Day

(September 26, 2018) Inspector General of the Intelligence Community Michael K. Atkinson, along with new Principal Deputy Inspector General Robin Ashton and an office outreach team, recognized National Compliance Officer Day with a workforce outreach event at the Intelligence Community Campus in Bethesda, Maryland (ICC-B). National Compliance Officer Day recognizes the contributions of professionals who not only oversee their organization's policies, but also respond to allegations of misconduct and evaluate procedures.

The ICIG's workforce of special agents, auditors, inspectors, attorneys, and support staff work each day to enhance the ability of the United States Intelligence Community to meet national security needs while respecting our nation's laws and reflecting its values. Their dedication to doing the right thing helps to shape the culture of the Intelligence Community. During the outreach event, team members at information tables staged across the ICC-B explained the importance of reporting suspected fraud, waste, and abuse. They also offered insight about professional opportunities within the Inspector General community.
