Component Mission

The National Counterterrorism Center (NCTC) leads our nation's effort to combat terrorism at home and abroad by analyzing the threat, sharing that information with our partners, and integrating all instruments of national power to ensure unity of effort. The Center serves as the primary organization in the United States Government (USG) for analyzing and integrating all intelligence possessed or acquired by the USG pertaining to terrorism and counterterrorism, and its Director serves as the Counterterrorism Mission Manager. NCTC also serves as the central and shared knowledge bank on known and suspected terrorists and international terrorist groups, as well as their goals, strategies, capabilities, and networks of contacts and support. In addition, NCTC conducts strategic operational planning for counterterrorism activities, coordinating and integrating the efforts of departments and agencies across the Federal Government.

Major Duties and Responsibilities (MDRs)

- Provide expert guidance and leadership to multiple teams in the production of well-crafted sophisticated, complex analytic finished intelligence products on sometimes controversial or particularly difficult issues in support of United States (US) foreign policy and national security objectives; review final analytic products, written and oral, for clarity, organization, accuracy, and logic; effectively explain highly complex concepts and results to non-expert customers and tailor products to correspond to customer needs.
- Plan, coordinate, and oversee work the work of multiple teams in a manner consistent with fulfilling organizational directives and accomplishing mission goals.
- Set priorities and drive programs to ensure senior NCTC/ODNI officials are prepared for policy meetings throughout the Intelligence Community (IC) and US Government (USG).
- Develop and maintain working relationships with senior NCTC/ODNI officials and, as necessary, principals throughout the intelligence and policy communities; identify issues and developments with internal and external peers, communicating regularly to exchange information.
- Develop the substantive analytic and management skills of subordinate employees and supervisors, and contribute to the broader corporate mission of the organization.
- Serve as the primary approver for the allocation of resources including but not limited to training, travel, and contracts; advise senior leadership on resource needs for the entire unit.
- Evaluate and develop first-line supervisors; serve as a substantive supervisory and analytic resource, teaching and guiding team chiefs; provide substantive feedback to include career development counseling and skills development.

Mandatory and Educational Requirements

- Demonstrated ability to identify, evaluate, and recommend appropriate solutions to resolve complex, interrelated program and resource management issues.
- Demonstrated ability to successfully develop personnel, ensuring they are appropriately challenged, rewarded, and given the support and tools they need to succeed.
- Extensive knowledge of NCTC, the IC, law enforcement, and their respective missions and interrelationships, to include relevant discipline areas.
- Strong analytic tradecraft and demonstrated ability to effectively plan and manage the development of high-quality, complex analyses and briefings on key CT issues.
- Demonstrated success working across organizational lines; the ability to build consensus, work effectively and independently, and influence key stakeholders to build a broad coalition promoting an interagency and national approach to counterterrorism.

Desired Requirements

- Previous experience managing a fast-paced, highly productive analytic unit. • Understanding of technical CT issues, particularly those related to cyber and/or data science.
