Component Mission

The Office of the Director of National Intelligence (ODNI) Deputy Director of Mission Integration (MI) serves as the Director of National Intelligence's (DNI) senior leader for intelligence integration across the IC enterprise. MI is responsible for ensuring customer outcomes by leading advances in collection and analysis that ensure the quality, timeliness, and utility of insights for the nation's decision-makers. Additionally, MI is responsible for increasing expertise and improving tradecraft at all levels through specialization, integration, and collaboration. MI is responsible for the strategic vision, direction, and planning to deliver a more integrated IC reflecting the collective wisdom of our collection and analytic components to advance, in support of the National Intelligence Managers, the Unifying Intelligence Strategies (UIS).

Major Duties and Responsibilities (MDRs)

Provide analysis and recommendations to ensure that ODNI and IC elements plans and programs align with objectives of the strategic plan.

Conduct in-depth assessments of collection capabilities and provide expert counsel to ODNI senior Executive leadership, National Intelligence Managers (NIMs), and National Intelligence Collection Officers (NICOs), to support decision-making on collection enterprise issues.

Develop substantive inputs to the intelligence planning, programming, budgeting, and evaluation process based upon these assessments.

Work together with the other intelligence disciplines to identify requirements for multi-INT collection, analysis, and mission performance.

Act as liaison with ODNI elements and other agencies to ensure alignment of programs, procedures, budgets, acquisitions, and guidelines.

Lead the development of initiatives that will improve partnerships, promote best practices, and foster integration across the spectrum of intelligence disciplines.

Support community decision-making fora to align collection capabilities against enduring and emerging national intelligence priorities, programs, and initiatives, ensuring coordination among the major collection disciplines.

Support DMI initiatives to address cross-cutting enterprise challenges and mission management priorities.

Brief senior ODNI leaders, IC members, policymakers, military decision makers, members of Congress, and other major stakeholders on collection requirements and investments.

Lead, initiate, cultivate, and maintain productive working relationships with senior policymakers across the IC in order to coordinate strategy development activities and evolving requirements and promote the implementation of mission and enterprise objectives.

Mandatory and Educational Requirements

Ten years of experience leading strategic planning, managing, and directing the successful efforts of a government or private research organization or ten or more years of experience in systems analysis, collection management, requirements policy development, and/or requirements management.

Superior interpersonal, organizational, and problem-solving skills, including a demonstrated ability to work effectively both independently and in a team or collaborative environment.

Superior ability to communicate complex information clearly, concisely, and in a manner that is targeted to and meets the needs of diverse audiences, including senior-level policymakers.

Superior ability to exercise independent judgment on time-sensitive issues and work collaboratively across the IC.

Desired Requirements

Experience in leading and managing operationally diverse teams.

Superior ability to develop innovative and flexible solutions for complex cross-organizational issues, taking initiative and making key contributions to group efforts.

Superior ability to plan and coordinate the integration of existing and emerging interagency capabilities to accomplish operational or strategic objectives.
