- A current Federal Government employee, selected for a detail, will be assigned to the position at his or her current grade and salary.

Component Mission

The National Counterterrorism Center (NCTC) leads our nation's effort to combat terrorism at home and abroad by analyzing the threat, sharing that information with our partners, and integrating all instruments of national power to ensure unity of effort. The Center serves as the primary organization in the United States Government (USG) for analyzing and integrating all intelligence possessed or acquired by the USG pertaining to terrorism and counterterrorism, and its Director serves as the Counterterrorism Mission Manager. NCTC also serves as the central and shared knowledge bank on known and suspected terrorists and international terrorist groups, as well as their goals, strategies, capabilities, and networks of contacts and support. In addition, NCTC conducts strategic operational planning for counterterrorism activities, coordinating and integrating the efforts of departments and agencies across the Federal Government.

Major Duties and Responsibilities (MDRs)

- Oversee and direct branch efforts to assess the state of collection against the nation's highest intelligence priorities; identify gaps against those priorities; develop integrated, cross-intelligence collection strategies to fill gaps; as appropriate task collection activity; evaluate collector responsiveness and success in filling collection gaps and meeting mission requirements.
- Serve as lead NCTC officer on specific collection projects, interface with key stakeholders across the IC and USG to assess collection capabilities.
- Direct branch staff to partner with IC stakeholders to foster collaboration among collectors, and monitor and evaluate collector results.
- Lead branch staff in developing integrated collection responses to national plans and strategies, emerging analytic community information needs, special events, and crises.
- Lead and oversee branch planning, preparation, and presentation of briefings, reports, and presentations to ODNI and organizational leadership, senior policymakers, IC members, and other intelligence consumers in a manner that meets their specified requirements; provide structured recommendations to address emerging issues, congressionally directed activities, and legislative requirements.
- Partner with ODNI staff, Functional, Mission, and Enterprise Managers, and IC elements to promote implementation of mission and enterprise objectives.

Mandatory and Educational Requirements

- Demonstrated ability to communicate clearly, both orally and in written reports, and to logically analyze, synthesize, and evaluate multiple sources of information for their inclusion in briefings and written documents.
- Knowledge of IC organizations' missions in order to develop national-level strategies and policies necessary to support U.S. national security and foreign policy interests.
- Ability to conceptualize, organize, and draw inferences from incomplete data and present a compelling assessment of findings and issues; ability to identify, articulate, document, and mitigate knowledge gaps or alternatives approaches.
- Superior ability to exercise independent judgment on time-sensitive issues and work collaboratively across the IC. Bachelor's degree or equivalent experience as determined by mission specialty area.

Desired Requirements

- Knowledge of the intelligence collection discipline and of collection organizations' capabilities and challenges.
