- A current Federal Government employee, selected for a detail, will be assigned to the position at his or her current grade and salary.

Component Mission

The National Counterterrorism Center (NCTC) leads our nation's effort to combat terrorism at home and abroad by analyzing the threat, sharing that information with our partners, and integrating all instruments of national power to ensure unity of effort. The Center serves as the primary organization in the United States Government (USG) for analyzing and integrating all intelligence possessed or acquired by the USG pertaining to terrorism and counterterrorism, and its Director serves as the Counterterrorism Mission Manager. NCTC also serves as the central and shared knowledge bank on known and suspected terrorists and international terrorist groups, as well as their goals, strategies, capabilities, and networks of contacts and support. In addition, NCTC conducts strategic operational planning for counterterrorism activities, coordinating and integrating the efforts of departments and agencies across the Federal Government.

Major Duties and Responsibilities (MDRs)

- The Quality Assurance (QA) Branch Chief is an experienced intelligence officer with strong critical thinking and communication skills responsible for leading a team of staff and contract analysts dedicated to ensuring the integrity of the Terrorist Identities Datamart Environment (TIDE) and the USG Watchlisting and Screening process.
- Major responsibilities of the Branch Chief include leading many Directorate-wide initiatives that may include analysis and reporting relating to major terrorist events, analytic assessments of terrorist identities, and reviewing watchlisting and screening policies and processes. The Branch Chief will be responsible for identifying, prioritizing, implementing, assessing, and managing proactive reviews of problematic terrorist identities that hinder USG screening and analysis. The Branch Chief serves as the primary point of contact with the Intelligence and Screening Community for any terrorist identity issues and must ensure extensive coordination with inter-agency partners to address any gaps or trends identified. The branch is responsible for conducting extensive research and coordination on individuals identified as possibly requiring removal from the watchlist.

Additional branch responsibilities include:

- Research instances where identities have incorrectly been merged or are duplicative of records already maintained.
- Write white papers for senior NCTC management or creating timelines and histories of identities due to lawsuits, after action reports, or at the behest of D/DTI.
- Plan and prepare written presentations and oral briefings for senior federal official and internal customers on significant issues pertaining too and/or affecting terrorist identities intelligence and analysis.

- Manage NCTC's role in the USG Redress process.

Desired Requirements

- Demonstrated ability to communicate clearly, both orally and in writing; and ability to research and logically analyze, synthesize, and judge information, as well as the ability to review and incorporate multiple sources of information in performing assignments.
