Component Mission

The Office of the Inspector General of the Intelligence Community (IC IG) was established within the Office of the Director of National Intelligence (ODNI) by the Intelligence Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2010. The IC IG's organizational divisions include Audit, Investigations, Inspections and Evaluations, Mission Support Division, the Center for Protected Disclosures, and Counsel to the Inspector General.

Major Duties and Responsibilities (MDRs)

The incumbent will serve as a Human Resources Officer and will plan, develop, and implement a comprehensive personnel management program designed to meet the unique requirements of the Office of the Inspector General of the Intelligence Community (IC IG).

Provide administrative and technical support and coordination of the day-to-day Human Resources operations for the office with other ODNI elements involved in personnel management and ensure consistency of those activities with ODNI/HRM policies, processes and procedures to meet expected standards, as appropriate.

Provide authoritative advice and innovative guidance on all aspects of human resources management, including personnel and administrative management; position management; strategic planning; (especially in the areas of outreach and recruitment strategies); employee relations, and performance management in accordance with overall ODNI policies, processes, and procedures in this domain.

Serve as a key member of the IC IG team, participating in the development of immediate, intermediate and long-range personnel plans to meet the mission requirements of the IC IG.

Provide information, advice and guidance to employees, managers, and supervisors on a broad range of HR issues/functions in one or more Human Resource subject matters and in accordance with ODNI policies.

Serve as point of contact for resolving management and staff issues by conducting research and providing guidance regarding the appropriate HR laws, regulations, policies, procedures, and/or handbooks to address specific personnel actions.

Oversee, develop and present recommendations to IC IG leadership and organizational managers on the best way to address employee relations issues, balancing the needs of the employee with the needs of the organization, and promoting the identification of a solution between the manager and employee.

Plan and carry out a wide range of Human Resources activities, transactions, advisory and consultation services and/or design, implementation, evaluation and execution of HR activities and initiatives in support of the IC IG's statutory and non-statutory positions and in compliance with applicable statutory authorities and overall ODNI policies.

Plan and conduct formal analyses of the strengths and weaknesses of HR programs that are unique to the IC IG and that require resolving critical problems or developing new concepts and methodologies for programs that are of major significance to IC IG leadership and mission success.

Submit and track all IC IG HR personnel actions in accordance with ODNI/HRM policies and procedures, as appropriate.

Maintain electronic IC IG HR records such as personnel actions, organizational and position transactions to ensure accurate and up-to-date data in accordance with ODNI policies and standards.

Develop position descriptions and vacancy announcements; screen application packages; participate on IC IG panels in an advisory capacity; propose salary levels and extend job offers in accordance with ODNI/HRM policies and procedures, as appropriate.

Remain informed and knowledgeable of current, new or revised laws, regulations, policies, procedures and operational practices; interpret implications of changes and revisions and recommend new or revised program requirements and/or other appropriate modifications.

Liaise and maintain productive working relationships with IC IG leadership and peers, internal and external colleagues, ODNI Human Resources Officers and leadership, and other members of the IC.
