Component Mission

The Office of the Director of National Intelligence (ODNI) Deputy Director of Mission Integration (MI) serves as the Director of National Intelligence's (DNI) senior leader for intelligence integration across the IC enterprise. MI is responsible for ensuring customer outcomes by leading advances in collection and analysis that ensure the quality, timeliness, and utility of insights for the nation's decision-makers. Additionally, MI is responsible for increasing expertise and improving tradecraft at all levels through specialization, integration, and collaboration. MI is responsible for the strategic vision, direction, and planning to deliver a more integrated IC reflecting the collective wisdom of our collection and analytic components to advance, in support of the National Intelligence Managers, the Unifying Intelligence Strategies (UIS).

The National Intelligence Council (NIC) consists of the most senior intelligence analysts supporting the Director of National Intelligence (DNI) in carrying out responsibilities as the head of the Intelligence Community (IC) and as the principal adviser to the President for intelligence matters related to national security. The NIC produces a variety of all-source, IC coordinated intelligence reports, including its flagship product, the National Intelligence Estimate, which represents the Intelligence Community's most authoritative statement on a key national security issue.

Major Duties and Responsibilities (MDRs)

Support the IC's production of strategic analysis on global economic and financial issues, working as part of the NIO for Economic Security and Financial Intelligence team and with other regional and functional NIO teams. Effectively communicate analysis, make authoritative analytic assessments, and possess an enthusiasm for applying new methods to analytic problems.

Perform analytic and leadership duties designed to expand his or her scope of knowledge as well as take advantage of existing subject matter expertise.

Participate in Community-wide coordination of National Intelligence Estimates and other community analytic assessments such as Intelligence Community Assessments, National Intelligence Council Memoranda, and Sense of the Community Memoranda. Coordinate on executive level products and other assessments produced by the IC.

Represent the NIC in policy meetings and in briefings for policy customers, and members of Congress and Congressional staffers.

Assist in the preparation and coordination of background papers and briefing books for the DNI and PDDNI's participation in Cabinet Meetings and National Security Council Principals' Committee and Deputies' Committee meetings.

Support engagement with policymakers and members of the Intelligence Community to ensure timely and appropriate NIC intelligence support to policymakers on global economic, financial, and/or energy issues as appropriate.

Assist in managing relationships with academia, the business community, and other non-government subject matter experts to ensure the IC has a comprehensive understanding of global economic and financial issues. Build and leverage diverse collaborative networks within the ODNI and across the IC. Maintain productive working relationships with colleagues, experts, IC members, members of the policy community as appropriate.

Build and leverage diverse collaborative networks within the ODNI and across the IC.

Mandatory and Educational Requirements

Interpersonal, organizational, and management skills to work with and fairly represent the community when analytic views differ among agencies.

Strong communications skills, including ability to communicate with people at all levels of leadership and target knowledge, both inside and outside the organization, to give oral presentations and to otherwise represent the NIC in interagency meetings.

Critical thinking skills and the ability to draft and prepare finished intelligence assessments and other written products with emphasis on clear organization, and well-sourced and logical presentation.

Solid grounding in at least one sub-field of economic security including but not limited to digital assets, energy and industry studies (shipping, military for example), global financial markets, regional and/or country specific economic analysis, threat (illicit) finance, sanctions, supply chains and trade, acquired through a combination of experience and education.

Flexibility and ability to remain open-minded and change opinions on the basis of new information and requirements.

Ability to work effectively both independently and in collaborative environment.

Creative problem-solving skills and initiative in carrying out mission responsibilities.

Desired Requirements

Demonstrated ability to express facts and complex ideas clearly, concisely, and accurately to a high-level community policy audiences.

A track record of effectively leading, communicating and making authoritative analytic assessments via written products and briefs.

Education or work experience in more than one sub-fields of economics and/or economic security including but not limited to digital assets, energy and industry studies (shipping, military for example), global financial markets, regional and/or country specific economic analysis, threat (illicit) finance, sanctions, supply chains and trade.
