Component Mission

The Office of the Chief Human Capital Officer (CHCO) supports the Office of the Director of National Intelligence by establishing and overseeing the implementation of the full range of Human Capital programs, processes, and policies. The CHCO has established the Strategic Human Capital Plan for the Intelligence Community (IC) that deals directly with talent, performance, and leadership to attract, engage, and unify an innovative and results-focused workforce in support of the National Intelligence Strategy—and ultimately the security of our nation. Following the IC Strategic HC Plan, the Office of the CHCO develops and implements policies, practices, and processes that leverage commonality across the IC and maximizes the strengths of individual agencies.

Major Duties and Responsibilities (MDRs)

- Liaising with IC elements to de-conflict schedules for IC CAE school events which might include colloquiums, career days, speaker series, panels, and visits to IC elements.
- Implementing IC CAE plans by coordinating and integrating competing requirements and priorities of multiple stakeholders; plan and participate in interagency and program meetings.
- Coordinating and planning outreach activities within and beyond the IC.
- Assigning IC CAE-related action items to Intelligence Community (IC) elements, log and track task status, negotiate extensions to deadlines, anticipate impediments to successful and timely task execution, and report task status to senior management.
- Tracking and managing IC CAE school grant expenditures.
- Preparing incoming and outgoing communication materials.
- Creating a quarterly IC CAE newsletter.
- Travelling to and liaising with mostly local IC CAE schools but also to IC CAE schools across the United States.
- Coordinating interagency and IC CAE collaboration on activities, programs and objectives; help evaluate and assess these efforts to ensure their success.
- Promoting and sharing formal analyses of the strengths and weaknesses of IC CAE that require resolving critical problems or developing new concepts and methodologies impacting program success.
- Developing and continually expanding personal expertise in facilitating the cooperation and effective coordination between the IC and IC CAE participating institutions.

Mandatory and Educational Requirements

- You have dabbled in understanding the mission, charter, roles and responsibilities of the various IC elements and use that knowledge as a backdrop to your everyday responsibilities.
- You have a solid understanding of the intelligence cycle and disciplines and how they are applied to solve problems.
- You like helping people. You get a kick out of getting people to those aha! moments. You are patient, level-headed, and cool under pressure. Teaching someone something new makes you feel like you have contributed to the mission.
- You communicate clearly. You write well. You speak eloquently. You can explain just about anything to anyone, and you're comfortable communicating in writing and on the phone.
- You enjoy identifying efficiencies where appropriate and to collaborate with your team to achieve consensus.
- You think on your feet. You like learning new things, and you can learn quickly. When things change, you know how to roll with the punches.
- You pay attention to details and successfully manage multiple priorities by being able to think on your feet. As far as you are concerned, anything worth doing is worth doing right.
- You are motivated and driven. You volunteer for new challenges without waiting to be asked. You're going to take ownership of the time you spend with us and truly make a difference by proactively making key contributions to group efforts.
- You enjoy solving problems. You love taking on difficult challenges and finding creative solutions. You don't get flustered easily. If you don't know the answer, you'll dig until you find it.
- You enjoy working both independently with little direction and within a team to advance the team's goals.
- You thrive on organizing complex projects and tracking every aspect.
- You enjoy traveling to various parts of the United States to interact with IC CAE schools and help assess the progress of their programs. Experience: On average, seven years of progressively responsible experience in the IC with thorough knowledge of IC integration practices and experience leading strategic planning and implementation.
- Education: Bachelor's degree or seven years IC-experience demonstrating ability to learn new concepts and apply knowledge to create positive impact.
