From here we can suggest these ideas as a discussion with the sons of the Peninsula

After they distanced themselves from the true religion and followed the unjust nation, hell called upon the rulers of the area.

For those who follow the declarations by the ruler of Riyadh and his deputy and ministers in this difficult period, since the killing of Americans in Riyadh and the Jews in Morocco it can be surmised that these people follow the words of Bush and his program. They fight Islam in a clear war. There are announcements by King Fahd that the true believers, the scholars and those who struggle for the sake of God, the King states that they are misguided and corrupt, with poor thinking. These are the people who observe Islam in detail, without any prejudice, just like it was sent through our master Muhammad, God's prayers upon him. In truth, he means that this is outside the religion, and outside the law, and by that he is denying the verses that call for Jihad, and he names it corrupt thinking. What did the Mujahidin do except that they answered the call of God and the Prophet by resisting the occupying non-believers and the denigrating of their Jihad. It amounts to denigration of the belief and not to them personally, and that is what was discovered during these events and the declarations by Prince 'Abdallah; whoever justifies these operations against the Crusaders in the name of Islam is a partner with those criminals, as he claimed. This shows a clear indication that the regime has a religion, other than that sanctioned by God. They do not want a religion that urges pushing the occupiers and killing the non-believing Crusaders. If it were Islam, then he would have known in advance that the religion orders him to conduct such operations and does not hide the verses about Jihad from him.

The salvation for this nation is God's book and his Prophet's Sunnah, and not the rulers and their followers. Only God knows who is on the right path or the wrong path (and Moses said, my Lord I know what comes with wisdom from him and who has consequences of the region and he will not give tyrants success).

So who are the ones with the straying minds and the corrupt factions, those who follow what God and the Prophet had said about the obligation to expel the Jews and the Christians from the Arabian Peninsula, or those who opened the Peninsula to them and gave them military bases? The Almighty Lord said (those who allow partners for God are unholy and they should not be allowed near the forbidden mosque after their year) and the God's Prophet, prayers be upon him, said as was stated by Al-Bukhari about Ibn 'Abbas...
